Dear JOHN SMITH,

Your Student Aid Report (SAR) summarizes the information you submitted on your 2010 - 2011 Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA).

Application Status (review the checked boxes)

- Your FAFSA appears to be complete. Review the data on pages 3-10 of your SAR and make corrections or updates if necessary. The school(s) listed on your FAFSA will receive your information.
- Your FAFSA has been selected for verification. Verification is a process where your school confirms the data you reported on your FAFSA. Your school has the authority to contact you for documentation that supports income and other information that you reported on your FAFSA.

Federal Student Aid Eligibility (review the checked boxes)

The data submitted on your FAFSA is used to calculate your Expected Family Contribution (EFC), which is 00000.

The EFC is not the amount of money that your family must provide. Rather, you should think of the EFC as an index that colleges use to determine how much financial aid you would receive if you were to attend their school. Financial aid may include grants (free funds that do not have to be repaid), low-interest loans (borrowed funds that must be repaid), and/or work-study (paid part-time employment). Please note that your EFC is subject to change if you update or correct your FAFSA.

Your financial aid package could also include other federal, state, or institutional grants and scholarships, and/or a work-study award. Your school's financial aid office will advise you of the specific types and amounts of student aid you are eligible to receive. For more information about the EFC, grants, loans or work-study, scholarships and other sources of aid go to www.FederalStudentAid.ed.gov/aidInfo.

- Based on your EFC it appears that you may be eligible for a Federal Pell Grant of up to $5350, in addition to other grants, low-interest student loans, and work-study opportunities.
- You may also be eligible for the Academic Competitiveness Grant (ACG).
- We sent your information to other federal agencies to verify your eligibility for federal student aid and there appears to be an issue with the information provided on your application. Review the checklist on page 3 for instructions on how to resolve these issues.

You should keep this SAR for your records!

Begin a New Application With Your Parents' Information Already Filled In

If you provided information about your parents and they'd like to fill out a FAFSA for another child at this time, select begin a new application with the parents' information already filled in. All of your parents' information (except for the signature) will be copied to the new application.

Your estimated Expected Family Contribution (EFC) is: 22066

Your estimated EFC is based on the information you provided on this FAFSA. It may change depending on your school's verification of information you provided. The EFC is not the amount of money that you or your family must provide. Rather, you should think of the EFC as an index that schools use to determine your eligibility for federal student aid.

For more information about the EFC, go to www.studentaid.ed.gov, select "Funding" then "Student Aid Eligibility" and scroll down to "How will I know what I'm eligible for?"

Based on your estimated EFC and current Federal Pell Grant requirements, your EFC indicates that you are not eligible to receive the Federal Pell Grant.

However, your financial aid award may include other federal student aid like low-interest student loans and work-study opportunities, depending on which federal student aid programs your school participates in. You might also be eligible for funds from your state or school. All of this is in addition to any private scholarships you may receive. For additional information about scholarships or other sources of aid visit www.studentaid.ed.gov.
